Subject: Statement by Firtash Attorneys in U.S. regarding 6/22 decision on U.S. jurisdiction

Statement by Firtash Attorneys in U.S. regarding 6/22 decision on U.S. jurisdiction:

“Motions to dismiss before trial are almost never granted. The court ruling here states only that the US prosecutors have jurisdiction to prosecute. It says nothing about guilt or innocence. We remain confident that Mr. Firtash, who is not accused in the indictment of paying any bribes and has never visited or done business in the United States, is innocent of these charges.”

Subject: Firtash: Statement by Dan Webb and Lanny Davis, attorneys for Dmitry Firtash in United States regarding today's Austrian Supreme Court decision

Statement by Dan Webb and Lanny Davis, attorneys for Dmitry Firtash in United States regarding today's Austrian Supreme Court decision:

We are disappointed in today's decision by the Austrian Supreme Court. In any event, nothing has changed regarding Mr. Firtash's innocence and the absence of evidence that he is guilty of any crime.

He has never done business in the United States, never visited the United States, and had no knowledge of any plan to bribe Indian officials about an Indian titanium mine that never happened. Indeed, it is remarkable that in the entire indictment, U.S. prosecutors never charged Mr. Firtash – or anyone – with even paying a bribe – a fact largely unreported in the media. For this and many other reasons, we are confident that a jury will find Mr. Firtash not guilty of all charges if and when he goes to trial.
